Coast Electric Mails Profit-Sharing Checks to 'Owners'

More than 3,000 families in the three county area served by Coast Electric Power Association received checks this week representing the cash balance of their share of ownership in the Association for the years 1944-46.

The checks ranged in size from a few dollars to several hundred dollars, for a total of $69,643.74, according to H. H. Shattuck, Manager of Coast Electric.

"I know of no more graphic illustration that could be given of Coast Electric's slogan 'Owned by those it serves,'" Shattuck said.

"Coast Electric's by-laws provide that capital contributed by members may be refunded if and when after the refund the capital of the Association shall equal at least twenty-five per cent of the total assets of the Association," Shattuck explained.

"These checks represent capital contributed by the 'Ole-timers' and which is replaced by similar capital contributed by the newer members.

"Contribution of capital by the members of Coast Electric began in 1944, and these checks represent the refund in full of the capital members contributed during the period 1944-46. Prior to 1944 the Association operated at a deficit, which was balanced and credits began to accrue during that year," he said.

It is planned that additional refunds of contributed capital will be made from time to time as the financial condition of the Association allows. Such refunds are required to be in the same order that the contributions were credited—for instance, the next payment will represent the capital contributed during 1947.

Shattuck explained that when members of Coast Electric pay their bills, any portion of that amount not used to pay current operating expenses is considered as "contributed capital" and is used to repay the REA loan and to establish necessary reserve accounts.

The checks were accompanied by a letter explaining his record share of ownership to each Coast Electric member.

A total of 16,000 present and former members of the Association received the letter, although only 3,000 were eligible for the refund for the period covered.

The letter explained that Coast Electric's members' ownership in the Association is principally in plant—poles, wires, transformers, etc., and is not available in cash.

Coast Electric was founded in 1937 and began operations in 1938. It now operates 1875 miles of line and serves more than 8,700 members in Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River Counties.

"While every other commodity, including all other utilities, were advancing in cost, Coast Electric, with faith in the future of its area, in 1957 reduced rates approximately 10%," Shattuck said.

Officers and directors, who set the practices and policies of Coast Electric, include F. Randall Rester, Fred S. Ladner, Sr., George C. Otho Rester, R. F. Turan, A. F. Morris, Virgil O. Burge, James A. Hickman and Forrest Summers.

NASA Information Booklets Being Mailed This Week

The U. S. Army Engineer District, Corps of Engineers, Mobile, Ala., have prepared a booklet of complete information concerning the "Land Acquisition Program for NASA Centralized Testing Site" to be located in the Logtown area. A generous supply of these booklets have been delivered to H. H. Shattuck, manager of the Coast Electric Power Association, who will see that they are mailed out this week to people throughout Hancock County. Besides these others were delivered to officials in Pearl River County and also to that part of Louisiana affected by this program, and they too, will be mailed to interested parties.

The book explains in detail how many acres of land will be acquired in the fee title area and the number of acres upon which perpetual restrictive easements eventually will be obtained, and just about when these permanent titles and easements will be acquired.

It also contains questions and answers explaining to parties directly interested just what, why, when and where the necessary procedures pertaining to the land acquisition will take place.

Other than this it also contains a map showing the boundary lines for actual testing site and also for the buffer area.

All in all it is a very informative booklet and should prove of inestimable value to all concerned. If you do not receive one of these booklets and want one, you may write Mr. Orville B. Moore, chief, Project Section, P. O. Box 1169, Mobile, Alabama, and a copy will be mailed to you.

JACKSON — The American Legion will sponsor an exclusive "Dime Board Project" for the 1962 New March of Dimes, State Commander Thomas J. Kirk has announced.

Speaking at the annual Mid-Winter meeting of The American Legion in Meridian, Commander Kirk explained that local American Legion Posts are being asked to fill as many of the Dime Boards as possible during the 1962 New March of Dimes Campaign this January in an effort to further the strong leadership of American Legion Posts in the March of Dimes' attack against crippling diseases.

Commander Kirk, pictured with the National Poster Girl for the 1962 New March of Dimes Campaign, Debbie Sue Brown, 5, Clarkston, Washington, explained that Debbie Sue, born with an open spine (spina bifida), symbolizes all victims who may benefit from The National Foundation's expanded program.

"The American Legion," said Commander Kirk, "has always been in the forefront of March of Dimes activities and just as our efforts helped make it possible to prevent paralytic polio, we can now work against two more of America's worst cripples—birth defects and arthritis. We are proud to encourage all March of Dimes fund raising efforts such as this Dime Board Project, and other programs."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Waveland, Mississippi
December 1, 1961

Editor,
The Hancock County Eagle
Bay St. Louis, Mississippi

The Waveland Town Council at their meeting on Friday, November 24th, unanimously voted to adopt a Zoning, or land use and street plan, for the Town of Waveland.

The purpose of this ordinance is to promote the general welfare of the inhabitants of the Town of Waveland, and to protect property owners, as it applies to both residences and commercial establishments.

With a situation that will exist in our area in the near future, we are compelled to take positive action to assure our citizens of this needed protection.

The first step in a Comprehensive Planning and Zoning plan will embrace subdivision control, certain areas zoned for residences, areas zoned for commercial, and regulations adopted for general land use, including building regulations.

A Zoning and Planning Commission, consisting of five members, has been appointed by the Mayor and approved by the Council, their term in office will be as follows: One member for one year, one for two years, one for three years and one for five years.

This plan of appointing members of the Commission should preclude any possibility of the Commission being in complete control of any political organization in the future.

The present commission has been appointed with a view of having members who are unbiased, and will serve with the best interest of all of our citizens as their objective.

Sincerely yours,
Garfield Lander

Mr. John Damborino, Editor
Hancock County Eagle
City

Dear Sir:

One of the aims and purposes of the Hancock County Association for Retarded Children is "to develop a better understanding of the problem of mental retardation by the public, and to co-operate with all public, private and religious agencies, international, federal, state, and local, and departments of education, health and institutions."

It is, therefore, extremely important to the success of our local unit that as much information as possible be presented to the public in order to obtain effective community support. We believe that your publication of the weekly column, Mental Retardation will be one of the principal means of accomplishing this purpose.

If we apply the national retarded average of 3% to our population in Hancock County then we must have approximately 360 retardates within our borders. At the present time we have only four memberships of parents of retarded children. The other twenty-four memberships are of people who are interested in helping the association.

The parents of these children should be especially interested in what we are trying to accomplish. They should attend the meetings and should lend whatever assistance they can to our organization in promoting the general welfare of their children at home, in the community, in institutions and in public, private and religious schools.

Thank you for allowing us to publish the weekly column in your paper.

Yours very truly,
Warren Carver, Pres.
Hancock County Association for Retarded Children

ONE MORE BOOST FOR MISSISSIPPI'S GROWING ECONOMY

Oil and Gas are among Mississippi's most valuable resources . . . not only as energy or fuel, but also as a raw material for the petrochemical, chemical, plastics and other "heavy" industries Mississippi leaders are working so hard to attract.

From an economic standpoint, petroleum and natural gas constitute a major source of wealth, individual income, employment, general economic activity, and revenue to both local and state governments.

UNITIZATION

OF OIL AND GAS FIELDS

To obtain maximum benefit from the oil and gas discovered in Mississippi, scientific conservation methods must be employed to bring to the surface the greatest possible amount of these valuable resources.

Natural pressure in an oil reservoir normally will push to the surface only about 20 per cent of the oil. This means that, unless something is done to maintain underground pressure, as much as 80 per cent of the oil will be left in the ground, wasted.

Methods now are available which can double, and sometimes triple, the amount of oil produced by natural pressure only. These methods entail moving oil from one place to another in the underground reservoir, without regard for property lines on the surface. So, the interests of all the lease and royalty owners must be protected by a unitization agreement before such operations — which will increase substantially the benefits derived by all interests, including the general public — can be begun.

Unitization is a pooling of all the individual ownerships in an oil or gas field, and the allocation of production so that each owner receives his rightful share of the total production.

Under unit operation, a field is managed and developed as a single entity or "unit"—which nature made it. Maximum efficiency and minimum waste—true conservation—can be achieved only under unit operation.

Few Mississippi fields are unitized at this time because the legal procedure for unitization has not been provided. A strategically-placed minor ownership can thwart the majority interests in their attempt to gain the benefits of unit operation.

What is needed is a law, similar to those in a number of other oil-producing states, under which the state regulatory agency (Mississippi Oil & Gas Board) can order the unitization of an oil or gas field when a substantial majority of the interests in the field have agreed to a unit operating plan voluntarily, and after it has been determined that unit operation is in the public interest.

MID-CONTINENT OIL & GAS ASSOCIATION

Representing oil and gas companies and individual producers responsible for more than 95 per cent of the investment and work to date in the development of Mississippi's oil and gas resources.

KEYS TO UNDERSTANDING

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend church regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

| Day | Book | Chapter | Verses |
|-----------|---------------|---------|--------|
| Sunday | Job | 36 | 5-12 |
| Monday | Job | 42 | 1-6 |
| Tuesday | Matthew | 6 | 25-34 |
| Wednesday | I Corinthians | 13 | 1-13 |
| Thursday | Galatians | 3 | 6-14 |
| Friday | Matthew | 8 | 5-13 |
| Saturday | I Corinthians | 2 | 1-10 |

Suppose you were given keys that would unlock the mysteries of the universe. With them, you could answer the "whys" that plague all of us. You'd know what was going to happen to you and those around you tomorrow—next month—next year.

Would you use them?
Of course, you say! Think again. And, once you've thought, you might shake your head, hand them back, and say, "No thank you."

Common sense tells us that man was not meant to understand every mystery of life. The reasons "why" remain as they are because our Creator in His wisdom thoroughly knows just how much man can both stand and understand.

God has a greater gift for you than these, or any other keys . . . the gift of Faith. You will find it by going to church regularly.

President Kennedy said new called into military service they may get out of uniform within less than a year. Urging them not to grumble in the meantime, he said they provide the strength to spare the United States a choice between humiliation and a holocaust. Kennedy said his administration had left the nation in a conventional military position. He said the armed forces were increased "to prevent a war, not to fight a war."

"We want to have a choice between humiliation and holocaust," Kennedy said with reference to a middle ground between surrender and the devastation of nuclear war.

Kennedy declared once again that this country wants to negotiate a peaceful settlement of East-West issues "but does not intend to surrender."

He said a key point in any future negotiations with the Soviet Union will be the question of internationalization of the administration of the Autobahn land route to Berlin.

Kennedy also observed that Congress approved the callup which the administration initiated.

Kennedy, in a clear attempt to bolster the morale of the reservists and guardsmen whose lives were disturbed by the muster of additional strength, and the soldier on duty in a "cold and windy camp" is rendering the same valuable service as an air-Strategic Air Command.

Bumper Crop of Pecans of Poor Quality, Carryover, Results in Lower Prices

There has been considerable comment among the growers and in the press regarding prices for pecans, according to the National Pecan Shellers Association. Growers of pecans should continually bear in mind that the law of supply and demand prevails within this industry, just as it affects any other commodity whose prices are not fixed by the government, said Henry A. Bucklin, executive secretary. Most growers are keenly aware that they received unrealistic high prices for 1960 crop pecans—to a large extent, he noted, and this was caused by the fact that little or no carryover was in the hands of shellers and processors from the 1959 crop.

Necessity prices paid a year ago have not prevailed through the 1961 crop, because the unrealistic level of 1960 had a backfiring effect at the consuming level, in that the trade could not utilize a large quantity of pecans at the high prices that prevailed, he explained.

This year's bumper crop, coupled with a carryover of the 1960 crop—plus poor quality on the average—has forced the current price of pecans at the primary level well below last year's record per pound average.

Shellers and processors point out the necessity of this drop in prices in order to combat inroads which have been made on the market by walnuts and almonds, emphasizing that while in general the trade is willing to pay more for pecans than competitive nuts, the unrealistic price spread that existed last year between pecans and walnuts and almonds has forced most users away from the use of pecans, said Bucklin.

As an example, he pointed out, pecans were selling for about $1.20 with almonds in the sixties. It is believed that the trade will convert back to the use of pecans at the current price levels. The price at which pecan meats are sold in reality determines the price received by the farmer for the raw material.

Southern Bell Telephone Co. Hosts Coast Editors At Distant Dialing Demo.

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. entertained editors of Hancock and Harrison County newspapers Friday night at Paradise Point restaurant, between Gulfport and Biloxi, to demonstrate distant dialing.

Southern Bell announced earlier that an estimated $500 one and two-party line subscription on two Gulfport exchanges will be able to use direct distance dialing on station-to-station calls effective Jan. 7, 1962.

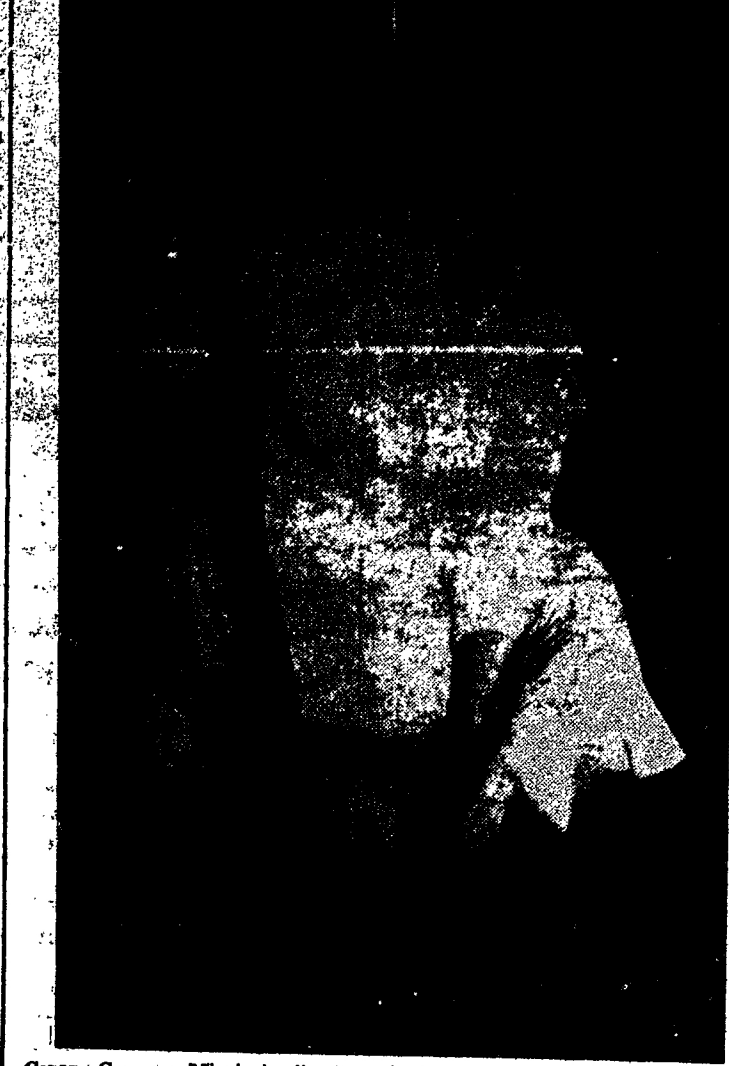

Telephone officials said Gulfport will be the second Mississippi city added to the direct distance dialing system.

In presenting actual demonstrations of the system, calls were placed to the city editor of the Honolulu (Hawaii) Advertiser and James Ward, editor of The Jackson Daily News.

Among other points called were Miami, Fla., Jessup, Ga., Baton Rouge, La., New York City, Washington D. C. and Hattiesburg, Miss.

J. C. Dabney, group manager for Southern Bell at Gulfport, presided at the program and introduced the guests and their wives. Assisting Dabney were Francis Lundy, district manager of Southern Bell at Hattiesburg, Tom Bailey, group manager at Biloxi, and Donald Presley, office manager at Gulfport.

Guests at the demonstrations were Mr. and Mrs. John Dambrino of The Hancock County Eagle, Mrs. Powell Glass Jr. of The Bay St. Louis Sea Coast Echo, Mr. and Mrs. Parnell McKay of The Pass Christian Tarpon Beacon, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Darling of The Gulfport Pictorial Review, Mr. and Mrs. James Bell of The Gulfport Examiner Times, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eisendrath of The Daily Herald, Biloxi, and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton C. Blackwell of The Daily Herald, Gulfport.

Gwen Cooper, Mississippi's Queen of the Forest, reminds us that the tree planting season is here. She says that forest economists are forecasting an upswing in the markets for all types of timberproducts beginning in the next year or two when paper companies and other industries will be constructing additional mills. "Now is the time to plan for the coming boom in timber markets by planting trees on idle lands which are now producing nothing more than an annual crop of taxes," say Miss Cooper.

Farm Diversity

The pattern of farm diversity adopted by Mississippi farmers is certainly sound and is paying off at the market place. This greater variety of crops helps to make better use of varied soils, makes possible more efficient utilization of labor and machinery, and provides at least limited insurance against unfavorable weather. The addition of livestock farming to crop production has greatly strengthened the overall farming systems.

University Mississippi Awarded Grant By Nat. Science Foundation

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — The University of Mississippi has been awarded a grant of $189,400 by the National Science Foundation for support of its second Academic Year Institute for science and mathematics teachers during the 1962-63 session.

Thirty participants will be chosen to study in the field of biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics at the graduate level, said Director Noel S. Childress.

In making the announcement, Dr. Childress said January 20, 1962, will be the deadline for applications to be mailed to him. Awards will be made on February 17 and recipients will have until February 28 to accept.

Several application requirements were noted by the director. Only teachers of science or mathematics courses in junior or senior high school (grade 7-12) are eligible. Applicants must have had at least three years of teaching experience.

Further, to be eligible for the Academic Year Institute, a teacher must qualify for admission to the Graduate School and must reside in the Oxford-University community while enrolled in the program.

Participants receive a $3000 stipend, plus $450 for each eligible dependent (up to a maximum of four), travel and book allowances. Thirty participants are currently enrolled in the first such in-

Mississippi. Others come from other states.

The purpose of the Institute is to upgrade science and mathematics teachers in Mississippi. The program is a cooperative effort of the National Science Foundation and the University of Mississippi.

The National Science Foundation is awarding 25 colleges and universities approximately $200,000 for Academic Year Institute programs. Approximately 100 teachers will be supported as participants in this program during this 1962-63 school year.

Prevou-Flach Wedding

Miss Judith Sophia Flach of New Orleans became the bride of Sheldon Simon Prevou of Bay St. Louis, Miss. at 11 a.m. November 4 in St. Francis de Sales Church, New Orleans.

Miss Flach is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph J. Flach Sr. of New Orleans, and Mr. Prevou is the son of Mrs. Edwin Prevou of Bay St. Louis and the late Mr. Prevou.

The Rev. Father Cunningham performed the double ring ceremony before an altar trimmed with white mums and greenery. Palms decorated the sanctuary. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white delusated satin gown trimmed with appliques of Alencon lace. The full skirt formed a chapel length train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a small tiered crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white cymbidium orchids and lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Miss Nancy E. Flach, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Doris A. Cross of Camden, Arkansas, and Ethel E. Faciane of Slidell, La.

Henry J. Prevou was his brother's best man, and groomsmen were Reno J. Necaise, New Orleans, and James LaPoint Bay St. Louis. Barry M. Flach, brother of the bride and Sterling J. Beaulieu, uncle, both of New Orleans, served as ushers.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore Kelly green brocade satin frocks fashioned with belled skirts. Their headpieces were large bows of the green brocade satin and carried cascade bouquets of Fugl mums in colors ranging from orange to shades of gold.

Palms and white blossoms decorated the Boulevard room at LeFante's for the reception.

The mother of the bride chose for the occasion a champagne beige delusated dress with matching accessories and a corsage of green cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Prevou wore a royal blue dress, black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

For traveling the bride wore an oyster white suit and magenta accessories. A white orchid adorned her shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Prevou are making their home at 649 1/2 Phosphor Ave., Metairie, La.

The bride graduated from Remedialist High School and Charity Hospital Nursing School. Mr. Prevou attended St. Stanislaus Day School and Bay High and served in the Naval Air Service for four years.

Attending the wedding from here were the groom's mother and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Prevou and daughter.
